PUBLIC INPUT SESSION

Public Input Session

Reeve B. Guyon opened the Public Input Session at 11:02 a.m.

Gary Sawyer, County resident, expressed concern regarding his livestock being affected by loss of fences and pasture due to the firefighting efforts; he requested his property be given priority to have his fences fixed. He further expressed concern with the subdivision to the north of his property and the trees there falling on the fence lines.

Tim Cameron spoke to communications issues around declaring a state of local emergency during the fire event. He stated that people he talked to are mad because they could not see smoke while sitting on top of Kos' hill. He asked for honest, clear effective communication and information to be given to the public. His ideas for communication include mail, TV, radio or a direct contact person.

Liz Seutter-Rosell commented that her family was at ground zero where fire started and has lost land due to firefighting efforts, she asked for information on remediation, and for the information to get to the producers on the unauthorized activity on their lands. She mentioned that during the evacuation she got a call that an oil tanker was allowed to go into the site. She found that this was disheartening that oil and gas industry has rights that residents don't and there always seems to be a preferential treatment to oil and gas over residents.

Alan Taylor asked if the County had an emergency evacuation plan in place? He commented that the fire is going to cost lots of money and he asked how is it going to be paid for? He spoke to the Malone Clinic shutting down and asked if the County is recruiting doctors? He asked why the County does not charge subdivision fees when people who subdivide make money.

Jean Huber spoke to communication during the fire. She believes that when there is a state of emergency she would like to get in touch with her councillor and she did call two councillors who said they didn't know what was going on. This left her with a lack of confidence in Council. She felt her questions were not being answered. She felt Council should have been there for the people.

Christel Durham thanked every single person behind the scenes, and she said they were blessed to have all these people. She cautioned Council that these disasters will happen more often and she would like to see the County and the Province put more effort into training the municipal employees. She also suggested the government do some kind of a program that gives people a basic understanding of what it takes to allow regular people to be able to assist.

Gary Sawyer spoke again about getting access to his property during the event. He could not get a pass and asked about a registry. He said his son was given a pass and was told to make it "quick" and that this was impossible as it is calving season. He had two calves born during the fire. He stated that the county people were great but the authorities not so great.

Liz Sutter-Rosell mentioned that at the end before order was lifted when Hwy 22 south was closed they were using RR 64 as a detour which created a safety issue with dust and speeding.

Tim Cameron lectured that the world has changed with regards to regulations and leaders need to understand and acknowledge landowners will get involved to help their neighbours regardless of the rules.

Ali Alladra suggested Council give the people the training to help fight grass fires.

Carl Erikson resident of SE 1-49-08-W5M regaled his story of at the end of Twp 494 at RR 81 there was a barricade there. He was in on his property fighting fire, and when he came out he almost hit barricade and it was unlit. He was not allowed in there during the day but then County let him in and he said there were still no lights on the barricade at night.

Reeve B. Guyon closed the Public Input Session at 12:09 p.m.

Reeve B. Guyon called for a break at 12:10 p.m. and the meeting resumed at 12:55 p.m.

296/23-05-23 Moved by C. Brooks to add resident concerns Gary Sawyer, Karen Drebert and Liz Sutter-Rosell to the agenda under general matters
